Marmon "68"

Highlights of Appointment

As to the appearance of the new Marmon 68, you will have to decide for yourself—that is, after all, a matter of individual opinion. But we do know that some of the best designers have achieved what they consider a masterpiece in style impressiveness. The lines are low, sweeping gracefully to the rear. Fittings of both chassis and body are strictly in the manner of the times. Unusual seating capacity for five passengers is provided on a chassis of easy-to-handle size (wheelbase, 114 inches). Fenders are unusually graceful in design and very wide. Deep side aprons prevent mud splattering. Headlamps are nickel, of the design usually found only on higher-priced cars; powerful night driving; depressed beam type, controlled at steering wheel. Roof quarters are metal, obscuring the fabric top covering and making possible a better and more unified color treatment for the entire car. The interior treatment is a new combination of comfort and color harmony with deep, luxurious cushions, high seat backs of just the right contour, ample head-room and leg-room, a combination of plain and patterned mohair of the newest patterns, lacquered garnish mouldings, silver-finished hardware, dome reading lamps, convenient toggle grips, gray leather vanity case etched in gold, foot rest, robe rail, extremely wide doors, easily operated windows, thick carpet and kick pads in color harmony. The front compartment is worked out in equally elaborate detail. The steering wheel is of the new flat spoke type of large circumference and small corrugated rim. Set in the centre of the instrument board is a narrow, silvered panel in which are grouped speedometer, ammeter and oil, gas and heat gauges illuminated by indirect lights. The windshield is equipped with automatic cleaner and large rear view mirror. Fedco anti-theft number plate. The transmission lock is located conveniently at the base of the gear shift lever.

The last best boxing news to record is that Patsy Pollock, of Winnipeg, has challenged Basil Daines, the present holder, for the welterweight title and the Buxton belt. Daines has accepted and will defend his title at Vulcan on May 24th. The fans of Southern Alberta have been clamoring for a good welterweight who would give Basil a fight for the title, and in the person of Pollock the promoters claim they have landed the best man that Daines has yet met. Daines' reputation for clean and clever fighting is well known to the fans and he has a large following here. Pollock comes here from Winnipeg with a like reputation and a record of eighteen straight wins against some of the best boys in the East. The card will be rounded out with two fast preliminaries and the usual local junior exhibitions. The boys of the Legion are looking forward to a record crowd, and as usual the proceeds go to the Memorial Hall fund.

The Citizens' Band sprung a surprise on the people last night, which was a delight. Unannounced, they appeared on the street and rendered a number of selections in excellent manner. It was a stunt that will be appreciated, and the excellence of their performance will no doubt increase the general interest in the band to be a winner in the competition in connection with the Calgary stampede.

The golf club local competitions were in progress this week and going strong. Some twenty or more members of the club will go on Sunday to Claresholm to play in the Herald Trophy competition. Later they will go to Staveland and elsewhere, and in turn all competitors in the district will play at Vulcan. Vulcan was represented in the finals last year by Mr. Roy Green.

The only municipal hospital news to report this week is that Dr. Owens, of the provincial health department, will be in Vulcan this Saturday and make a personal inspection of the hospital proposition and have conference with the local board. Advertising will at once be placed for tenders for construction and other branches of the work. It will be the ambition of the board to have the institution erected and running before the winter sets in.

Capacity houses at the theatre on Monday and Thursday nights greeted the Vulcan High School students in their concert and entertainment presentation. The boys and girls demonstrated a surprising talent and versatility in a program which included music, sketch, song and acrobatic stunts, and perhaps the latter commanded particular comment owing to its excellence and the fact that it is a recent development of a talent in a squad of boys under the direction of Principal MacGregor. The Advocate joins the people of the delighted audiences in recognition of fine talent and praise of the enterprise which produced such splendid entertainment and resulted in a real contribution to such a meritorious fund as the school piano fund is.

The fans in goodly numbers went out to the park on Wednesday night to witness the first baseball of the season and to give the once over to the teams which are to figure in quite different spheres this year. The game was between Blackie and Vulcan, the former with a place in the much-discussed Southern Alberta league and the latter resolved to play independent ball. The night was very chilly and conditions bad for baseball, and naturally enough the performance was quite in keeping with the circumstances. Criticism would not be justified, and judgment for the same reason will be suspended by the fans. There is a certainty that both teams will be much better than they looked on this occasion. Blackie won by a score of ten to six runs, six of which they put across in the first frame, and the locals gradually accumulated their six while the visitors were getting their other four. The game was a start and there was in the attendance an evidence of the popularity of the game, and this should not be permitted to be destroyed by the delay in starting the game, which on this occasion exercised the patience of the spectators to the extent of more than half an hour.

C. P. R. carpenters and other work men have given to Vulcan a considerably enlarged depot, with a separate room with separate entrance for the accommodation of ladies. The alterations to some extent also provide some facilities for the station staff. The changes and improvements are such that will at once be appreciated by the patrons of the railway at this point. The painting crew is expected along any day, and when they have made their contribution to the general improvement there will be a vastly different depot at Vulcan.

With so many farmers operating motor trucks for the marketing of their grain and with splendid prospects for a bumper crop this year, the demand will be all the greater for better market highways. When dry weather prevails the highways as a general rule are satisfactory but lack permanency and requires constant maintenance. This portion of Alberta is sufficiently advanced and settled to afford a road program of gravelled market highways. It would effect a saving upon motor equipment as well as time which is important these days.

The new Christian church is nearing completion. The seats have been ordered and will arrive about the fourteenth. As soon as the carpenter work can be completed, the painting and varnishing done, it will be ready for dedication. At a recent meeting of the members it was decided that the dedication would be June 3rd. The carpenter work is being done by volunteer labor and the rush of spring work may throw the dedication to a later date, and definite announcement will be made next week. The membership is very thankful for the aid they have received in erecting the building and would appreciate any help given in laying the flooring and assembling the seats.

Details of the band competition and tournament, to be featured in connection with the Calgary stampede and exhibition, have been received this week by the Vulcan band, and the organization at once speeded-up in preparation as an entry in the big event. The band has always made its contribution to the fame of Vulcan, and surely in the ambition to figure high in this provincial competition will have the good wishes and support of citizens.

The receipt by Harry Nelson this week of a letter from the Lally company, manufacturers of lacrosse sticks, the purpose of which is to promote the game of lacrosse, reminds of an event in Vulcan last fall, which was promoted for a like purpose. There are many old-time lacrosse men in Vulcan, and some young and likely lads and the lacrosse association and the stick makers have a proposition that makes the introduction of the game somewhat easy. You who are interested, what do you say?

The authorities request that The Advocate record the prosecution this week of three local young men, their offence being the persistent and untimely discharge of giant crackers. Apart from the annoyance occasioned by the indiscriminate firing of these noise-producers, there was also the fire danger. It would appear also that the offenders had refused to desist when requested to do so, and had failed to make an appearance in court, necessitating the issue and service of summons, the cost of which was added to that which each was required to pay. Two, who pleaded guilty, were each assessed a total of $15.00, and the third of the trio, whose offence had to be established by evidence, was taxed to a total of $25.00. Added to the penalties was some good advice by the magistrate.

The cancellation of the school fair last fall, on account of disease prevalence in the district, has created somewhat of a complication. However, the collections and preparations made last year will serve to a considerable extent for this year, and there being a live interest particularly in the country schools, Mr. W. S. Benn, superintendent of school fairs, is making the effort to have the Vulcan and district school fair maintain the standard established by the splendid successes of former years. The dates allotted by the provincial department to the Vulcan fair are Thursday and Friday, October 4 and 5. A general meeting will be called for the re-organization of the management of the fair, and in the meantime promotion will be under the direction of the superintendent.

The regular meeting of Ferrodale Chapter (U.D.), Order of Eastern Star, held on Tuesday night, was of particular interest, in that it was made the occasion of the official visit to the lodge of Mr. S. Savage, Associate Grand Matron, Mrs. Sophia Lauglitz, Past Grand Matron, and Mrs. Ella N. Beaubier, Past Grand Matron. There were some dozen or more members of the chapter at Champion and several members of the order from different parts of the district. Addresses by the official visitors and their welcome by local officials made up a program of special interest that added pleasures to a splendid banquet.

The continuous fine weather has permitted uninterrupted work on the land with the results that threshing is completed and seeding, at this writing is about ninety per cent. in and will be completed this week. The earlier plantings are already coming through in many instances and the germination and growth promises to be strong and rapid owing to the great moisture in the ground and the warm sunny days. Some predictions are that this year will be a repetition of 1920, when the season was backward, seeding starting about May 10th, and a big crop was harvested. The demand then was so great that the price of seed wheat jumped in a few days from $2.27 to $3.15 per bushel and flour went up $1.60 a barrel in sympathy. A well matured crop was then produced and it is expected that this year will see the same returns. Contrary to supposition, the acreage will be large, as every advantage of the good soil conditions, are being taken, and all possible conditions of seeding will be undertaken. Stubble-in will be popular. Some deliveries are gradually being made and the grades and quantities are reported to be very satisfactory.

Magistrate Dawson assessed one of our local district men $25.00 and costs for creating a disturbance in the hotel in the early hours of the morning, and there was at that some leniency in the case. Members of the Bank of Commerce staff and other friends of Mr. A. C. Marnoch were at the depot on Saturday evening to say so-long and good-luck to him. Mr. Marnoch, who has made himself popular during his stay in Vulcan, hopped on the train on the first run of a journey home to Scotland, and a shower of rice would indicate the mission of the trip.

The last regular meeting of the Vulcan Women's Institute was held on Friday. Features of an interesting program were a paper on "Flower Gardening" by Mrs. Pittman, and a paper on "Education and Better Schools" by Mrs. Gold. The chief business of the meeting was the planning for the entertaining of the members of the institute in the district in Vulcan some time during June. The hostesses were Mrs. Parslow, Mrs. Wm. Campbell and Mrs. Wm. Scott.

The football situation in some respects is a little uncertain. In respect of the league, it would appear that Ensign, Union Jack and Vulcan are the only available teams. A meeting held recently at High River, was attended by Mr. W. E. Butchart and Mr. R. Mitchell, and it there developed that the league of former years was impossible. However, it is a fact that Vulcan will have a team quite equal to the calibre of last season, and games in the league will be supplemented with matches with teams in the cities north and south. One of these will be with the Army and Navy team of Calgary, to be played in Vulcan, on May 24th. In the meantime it is expected that there will be developments that will ensure Vulcan of football entertainment of the kind that pleases.

Boxing is the game. So it would seem from the size of the crowd and the apparent kick that the spectators get out of the bouts staged by the Canadian Legion at Vulcan. The show on Saturday night maintained the standard established by the promoters and the crowd was just a bit bigger than on any previous occasion. Bruce Vanskiver got the decision over Danny Campbell in the opener, and "Buster" Johnston and "Tough" Thompson went to a draw. Nels Ferguson, of Calgary, put away Bert Mounford, of Vulcan, in the first round. Bob Canuck, of Calgary, whalloped Kid Kaplan, of Drumheller, in to Starland in less than three rounds. Tommy White, one-time champion flyweight, went on in an exhibition three rounds with Billy Trevennon, and with cleverness mixed a bit of comedy to the delight and satisfaction of the big crowd. The feature event of the bill was the battle between Mel Cowie, of Calgary, and Louis Kwiczak, of Drumheller, for the Alberta lightweight championship. The battle went the full route of ten rounds, and Cowie plainly earned the decision, his cleverness preventing Kwiczak from scoring to any extent, and though the Drumheller boy stuck gamely to his task he failed to realize on a dogged determination and real scrappy effort. These boys were worthy their place as head liners in a real show, the details of which are being broadcast by the multitude of pleased fans who are already anticipating another card. Boxing is a good game, all right. It perhaps is not true that Vulcan will become the rival of New York in this line of sport, but it is a fact that Vulcan is being tabbed in Western Canada, and this week a club in Winnipeg made request for permission to send two of the best boys in their class to Vulcan.

MOTHER'S DAY

Mother's Day will be widely observed throughout the nation May 13. Probably no day set apart for unofficial observance has had such extensive recognition in so short a time. The answer is obvious. No difference of religious faiths, no geographical frontiers, no chauvinistic race pride can qualify the universal affection mankind has for motherhood. Only where woman is a chattel, will the appeal of Mother's Day fail to reach. Elsewhere it has required only the suggestion to make Mother's Day an occasion of devotion and adoration. So pervasive is the spirit of Mother's Day that those who have only her memory to cherish observe the day with the same propriety as those whose good fortune it is to have a mother to embrace or to honor by message or floral symbol. Blessed is that son or daughter whose privilege it will be on Sunday to be in the presence of their mother. Cursed by their own ingratitude will be the son or daughter who neglects the opportunity to pay homage to her. Satisfied as the average mother is with so little, no child will let Sunday pass without in some fashion letting her know of the love in which she is held.

LED A LOST CAUSE

The death of Baron Peter Wrangel, one-time leader of the "White" Russian forces, in Brussels a few days ago, passed almost unnoticed. It is not so many years ago that his name and his exploits were given almost unlimited prominence. Then he was the hero who set out to oust the Bolshevik Government and to restore the Romanoffs to the Russian throne. At the time of his death he was an inconspicuous refugee in Belgium. History may assess his deeds on a less fickle basis. Wrangel served with distinction as an officer in the Czar's army during the World War. In its early days he won promotion by leading a "forlorn hope" charge of the Russian Imperial Cavalry against a German machine gun position. When the old regime was overthrown in 1928 he fled rather than compromise with Lenin and Trotsky.

Why does such a large part of the public become excited over the clanging of a gong announcing a fire in a town or a city and only idly wonders why a heavy smoke pall blankets many sections of the country during the summer season?

THE CURRIE LIBEL ACTION

We have sometimes thought that Judges were too prone to shut out evidence, but the trial at Cobourg shows the necessity for strictness. It lasted for two weeks in spite of the fact that the Judge time after time, refused to permit the lawyer for one of the defendants to introduce elements that had no relevancy. Very often a lawyer will ask questions merely for something to say, but more often his object is to introduce something that, while not relevant, will make an impression on the jury, or perhaps on one jurymen. It is the Judge's business to focus attention on the point at issue and to disallow anything designed to befog or prejudice the jury, and Mr. Justice Rose had to exercise a good deal of patience and persistence with counsel who tried his best to break bounds, perhaps through inexperience, perhaps through ignorance, perhaps through subtlety. A Judge may only assist the lawyer who so offends by ruling against him too often. It may antagonize a jurymen or two who may feel that he should be more considerate to a lawyer who pleads inexperience, consequently a Judge has to exercise some diplomacy when he has before him a lawyer who may even be striving to get jurymen's sympathy against the Bench. That was the position that Mr. Justice Rose was in, as we gather from the reports of the trial, but he acquitted himself in a manner that shows him to be an ornament to the Bench. Whether or not Sir Arthur Currie was wise in taking action against Mr. Preston and Mr. Wilson will remain a matter of divided opinion. No doubt he felt keenly the charges made against him and he had reason to feel that, unless brought up with a sharp turn, Mr. Preston would continue his relentless pursuit. Those who followed the trial will not be disposed to pay any attention to civilians who try to tarnish the reputation of the Commander-in-Chief, who from first to last, was under the command of others, as others were under his command. The verdict of $500 which carries with it costs, is a heavy penalty and that verdict was given by a jury empanelled in the county where Mr. Preston and Mr. Wilson live. It would probably have been lived it were not that they had pleaded they were poor and Sir Arthur had declared it was not money he was after, but vindication.

THE CANADIAN LEGION

The Canadian Legion represents the ex service men of the Dominion. There are 50,000 in Canada which is in itself a powerful number. The Common Argus speaking of the Legion says: "Four-fifth of the work of the Legion is in helping comrades who were disabled or partly disabled in the war, or who have found the going very hard since the war. In the hurry and rush of modern life unless there is a strong hand to sustain them the weak are bound to go to the wall, and the strong hand for the veterans is now being provided by the Canadian Legion. As long as their members are as just and fair as they are today, they will be doing a service not only to the ex-service men themselves but to society as a whole."

One way of getting what you want is by wanting nothing.

DUNANT CENTENARY

Into the wilderness wastes and the crowded city tenements, into the frozen north and the torrid jungle, is carried the peace time solace of the Red Cross. Enlisted under its banner are the youth of the world, keeping bright its torch, first lighted by Henri Dunant, the Franco-Swiss.

On May 8, 1828, one hundred years ago, Henri Dunant was born in Geneva. In 1859, it was his lot, as a spectator, to view the terrible battle of Solferino, in which the allied forces of Italy and France struggled against Austria. The battle lasted fifteen hours, on a hot June day, and the plains of Lombardy were dyed with the blood of 40,000 dead and wounded. No neutral provision had been made for medical officers, with the result that the doctors and attendants of the fleeing Austrians fled with their countrymen, while the pursuing allies carried almost all their surgeons along in their company, leaving the dead and wounded trampled and forsaken upon the plains.

After the battle, Dunant, torn with compassion at the spectacle before him, besought the services of the women of neighboring towns, to assuage the lot of the sufferers. He struck a new note in his labor of mercy. Regardless of nationality, he ministered to all alike, recognizing no distinction between friend and foe.

Time had no power to minimize the horrors spread before him in this battle. In 1862, he published a little book "Souvenir of Solferino," picturing the needless waste and suffering incident upon warfare. The dominating purpose of his appeal, was the organization of permanent societies of volunteers in all civilized countries which, in time of war, would render succor to the wounded without distinction of nationality.

The book was read throughout the world. Its power so seized the minds of all that in 1863, an International Conference representative of fourteen nations was held at Geneva, to discuss the inefficiency of medical aid on the battle field. In 1864, the first Geneva Convention provided for the neutrality of military hospitals and ambulances, adopting the Red Cross as the distinctive emblem in tribute to the flag of Switzerland. In 1906, the Geneva Convention was amended, its terms extending to naval warfare, with practically every nationality acceding to it.

While Hunri Dunant's mission was primarily with the wounded in battle yet his cry, has lit in mankind, a spirit of compassion for all suffering, which refuses to die with the cessation of war. So strong had this Red Cross influence become after the Great War, that in 1919, various nations founded the International League of Red Cross Societies. The purpose of the League is to keep active in the world a peace time spirit of service. And throughout all lands, the Red Cross, supported by eager voluntary contribution is flamingly alive. Relief is rushed to famine areas, to isolated districts. It's ministering hand is extended to the weak and unfortunate. Hospitals have been established at far off points where the sign of the Red Cross spells salvation. Knowledge is spread for the prevention of diseases, and the better control of health conditions. The children of the world march under its banner gaining instruction in wholesome living and practising that desire for service, which emanates from the great founder, Henri Dunant. His spirit is multiplied a thousand fold. No longer is the Red Cross merely the alleviation of the horrors of war. It is a healer in peace.

PASSING OF BABY CARRIAGES

Manufacturers of baby carriages are complaining that the demand for their product has declined materially. Two reasons are suggested: one, that there are not so many babies, and the other, that the automobile has made it less needful to wheel out the baby in his own vehicle. There may be another reason. There are fewer safe places in which to wheel a baby carriage than in former days. Though a city baby might enjoy being in the park, the perils on the way there might act to deter from the effort. It would be a rash person who would risk the baby's life by wheeling it along a highway. A baby carriage would stand a poor show in a conflict with an automobile. Possibly baby carriage manufacturers are the victims of altered traffic conditions rather than that their plight is due to fewer babies. Babies are our best crop and we cannot as a people be prosperous unless the output is ample. Though baby carriages may be superseded there is no substitute for a baby. It would be alarming indeed were the slackening of demand for carriages to indicate failure of the baby crop.

Something else that seems to be out of kilter in China is somebody's thermometer. An item says ice cream has been introduced in that country for the first time and that it was "warmly received."

Jack Dempsey: "No, I haven't had the pleasure of reading Shakespeare yet."

B. C. Forbes: "Capital used to be in the saddle. To-day it is Management. Next will it be Labor?"

Alvin E. Dodd: "Business is not a machine, composed of 'cogs' as some metaphors have it. It is a living, and changing, organism."

Sir Edward Kemp: "If we have reduced our tariff four times since the war we have reduced it in favor of the working people of some nation other than Canada."

The Supreme Court of Canada has ruled that woman is not a person and therefore not eligible to sit in the Senate. In view of this ruling it will be difficult for newspapers in future in reporting women's meetings to say that so many persons were present.

When war ceased, Canada had 12,000 trained air pilots and the majority of these are across the line or have gone into other safer occupations.

SURVEY SHOWS

Evans Spring Survey Shows Less Land Prepared in Alberta This Spring Over Last Year

Progress in seeding operations is reported in the crop summary issued on May 2 by the W. Sanford Evans Statistical Bureau of Winnipeg. The prepared land in Alberta is said to be 621,000 acres less than was ready for crop last spring. The summary for the west follows:

From April 28, operations rapidly become general over the prairies and while some districts had done little seeding up to May 1, practically all report good progress in plowing, etc. In Manitoba, crop districts 1, 2, 3, 7 and 8, individual points show as high as 85 per cent. wheat seeded, while very few report less than 50 per cent. In the other crop districts activity is most general in no. 10. The season opened with 3,613,000 acres ready for drilling, as compared to 3,076,000 acres last year. In Saskatchewan, more wheat has been sown in crop district No. 3 than elsewhere, the high points being La Fleche with 50 per cent., Kincaid 25 per cent., Bengough 20 per cent., Cadillac 30 per cent., and Swift Current 30 per cent. In other crop districts seeding is just nicely started with No. 4, 8 and 9 having the least done to date. Saskatchewan started with 9,026,000 acres ready, as compared with 8,020,000 acres ready, as compared with 8,020,000 acres last year. Southern Alberta crop district 1, 2, 3, and 4 report considerable plowing, seeding and threshing, with farmers generally well satisfied with the outlook and much better prepared to carry out their spring operations than has been the case for many years. Machine companies state that exceptionally large numbers of 33-rowed seeders capable of drilling from 40 to 50 acres per day have been sold in Saskatchewan and Alberta. In Northern Alberta comparatively little work has been done, with the exception of a few points between Vermilion and Vegreville. Peace River district reports seeding as started. The prepared land in Alberta is less by 621,000 acres than the amount ready last year, this being due to the fact that fall plowing only amounted to 60,000 acres last fall as compared to 1,000,000 acres in the preceding year.

THE CLOSE OF THE SESSION

The session of parliament now drawing to a close has not been very eventful. The new leader of the Conservative opposition did not display much militancy, but that was, no doubt, by studied choice. He has one or two clashes with the Premier and with some of the Ministers, but, on the whole, his course was in direct contrast with that of his predecessor. From this time forward he may be expected to adopt more beligerent tactics. The government has encountered no real opposition from the Progressives who are so divided among themselves that a united front is impossible. The government comes out of parliament bearing no marks indicative of a fray.

OIL PRODUCTION

Turner Valley Produced 37,724 Barrels Oil in April. Heads All Canada with Oil Output

With Royalite No. 8 well producing 1,355 barrels of crude naptha in seven days, and Dalhousie No. 1 delivering nearly 7,000 barrels of crude naptha to the pipe line to Calgary, the value of oil taken from thirteen producing wells in Turner Valley during the month of April was substantially increased compared with the month of March.

The total production of crude oil and naptha for April was 37,724 barrels, proving Alberta has the greatest oilfield in Canada.

Total crude naptha production was increased by nearly 6,000 barrels, and value of all production was greater by about $25,000, the total figure for the month being more than $145,000, compared with about $120,000 in March. These figures showing the value are based on crude naptha at $3.95 per barrel, and light crude oil at $3.00 per barrel.

The total amount of crude naptha delivered through the pipe line to Calgary during April was 33,790 barrels, according to figures given to the press by the Imperial Oil Co. In March, the total crude naptha was 27,866 barrels.

During the seven days that Royalite No. 8 produced in April, 1,355 barrels were delivered, a daily average of 193 barrels. Dalhousie No. 1 yielded 6,957 barrels for the month, a daily average of 232 barrels. The amounts of oil delivered to Calgary from the various wells were as follows:

Royalite 4	17,681	589

GAMBLING WITH GOD

Life insurance was called "gambling with God" by the French in the sixteenth century. So the law barred it as impious. More than one half of the residents of the United States held policies at the end of last year, calling for $87,000,000,000. They accounted for almost three fourths of the world's outstanding total of $101,000,000,000. No one fears divine Providence will be angered if we take this method of smoothing the financial path of those who live on. So the underwriters distributed $1,500,000,000 to beneficiaries in this country in 1927. Four centuries ago it was all right to insure against the loss of goods in shipwreck, but an offense against good morals to seek protection for a family by the same plan. Two hundred years more were required to establish the identity of the principle involved. We don't gamble with God in saving for the future by building an estate. Life insurance amounts to just that.—Colliers Weekly.

GIVE BOYS EMPLOYMENT

One of our Boy leaders made an appeal the other day on behalf of 'teen age boys who will soon be leaving school and who wish to spend their summer vacation in some form of gainful employment. Citizens who can do so are asked to offer a helping hand in giving or securing for boys who are willing to work and anxious to secure some little money for themselves during the summer months. The 'teen-age boy problem has always been a difficult one and in the past but too little has been done in the way of grappling with it. After the year thousands of boys are turned loose to roam the streets. There is always mischief for idle hands to do, and too often we find our boys hailed before police magistrates because of criminal pranks perpetrated in just trying to while away time.

COST OF ONTARIO ROADS

The cost of maintaining roads in Ontario during 1927 according to Hon G. S. Henry, amounted to $1,644,066, and the cost per mile had been as follows: $760.66 for gravel roads, $860 for macadam, $738.82 for bituminous paving, $407.44 for asphalt and $536.99 for concrete. He said that 237 miles of highway had been laid during the year; and the cost per mile had been $24,050 for cement concrete $30,040 for asphalt, $28,130 for mixed macadam, $18,429 for bituminous paving and $15,840 for macadam.

Hence we have a fine selection of Used Cars, literally traded in before their time . . . better used cars than we have ever had before. Representatives of 160,000 farmers are to meet Premier King to present their views regarding anti-dumping regulations on eggs, poultry, fruit and vegetables. They want reasonable protection for their industry during the Canadian season of production. That is all that Canadian manufacturers ask.

The Illinois-Alberta oil well could have paid 8% per cent. dividend last year had it not adopted a policy of drilling another well. The net proceeds for the year ending March 1928 amounted to $36,371.83. Total revenue was said to be as follows: naptha sales 31,822 barrels $125,652.25; gas sales $5,150.

H R PRESBYTERY

The High River Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, at a meeting in Vulcan on May 3, elected Rev. J. N. Brunton and R. W. Dalglish as representatives to the Settlement Committee for next year. The following were elected lay delegates to the annual conference meeting in Edmonton on May 23: Mrs. E. Harris, Robt. Anderson, Mrs. C. W. Folk, N. D. Scott, A. McGregor, A. W. Kelly, J. W. Morrow, J. A. Carlson, C. H. Marshall, G. Chisholm, O. E. Spencer, J. W. Clarkson, E. C. Carr, Mrs. Jno. Watson, and as alternates, W. M. Marshall, Mrs. W. Dayman, Mrs. Jas. McKinney, Mrs. R. W. Dalglish. Re the ordination of women, the Presbytery expressed itself by resolution as being in favor of the full ordination of women and disapproving of the proposal to create an inferior order of ministry—the diaconate. The Presbytery also heard with pleasure the report of Rev. G. G. Webber, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance with respect to efforts being made to secure a more satisfactory enforcement of our Sunday laws and expressed itself as follows: "We commend the action of the Commissioner of Provincial Police in sending out special orders to all constables throughout the province requiring close attention to infractions of the Lord's Day Act, such as Sunday threshing, Sunday operation of elevators and all other forms of unnecessary Sunday work."

LUCKY BOY

A young Winnipeg boy, Russell Dickson, 20 years of age, employed with the C.P.R. press bureau for the past three years and who had a knowledge of shorthand and an aptitude for photography and mechanics was chosen by the famous traveller and lecturer, Lowell Thomas to accompany him on his next expedition into the jungles of Africa and also to the South Sea Islands. This will make a wonderful trip for young Dickson.

YOUTHFUL ORATOR

Wm. Fox, the winner of the oratorical contest in Ontario, attracted great attention at Massey Hall, Toronto, at the recent contest by the musical timbre of his voice. His style was commented for its sanity as well as seniority. Nothing florid about his gestures, nothing histrionic in his manner. He delivered his address with splendidly clear articulation and an intonation that was gained by restraint. The most mature of speakers could have taken points from him.

ON THE DAY OF REST

The few people in Toronto who are objecting to public libraries being open on Sunday are making themselves ridiculous. There was a time when street cars were not allowed to run in that city on Sunday and the first by-law submitted to the people providing for a Sunday street car service was defeated. Today, no one would think of stopping them. There are very good reasons why public libraries in cities should be open to the public on the day of rest, but a sufficient reason is that it is the day of rest.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE MEETING

A meeting of above League was held in Elks' Club Rooms, High River on Sunday, May 6 with president J. Miller in the chair. Representatives from Vulcan, Ensign, Union Jack and R.C.A.F. were present. R.C.A.F. and Okotoks have withdrawn from the league. R.C.A.F. being unable to field a team this year and Okotoks having joined the Calgary league. A new league has been formed with Vulcan, Ensign, Union Jack and possibly Claresholm. Mayor Butchart of Vulcan, was elected president and James Carrington, Vulcan, secretary-treasurer.

MIRROR 'REAL AMERICA'

Turning from the city newspapers to the small town press exchanges that come to the Editor's desk, is like stepping from the slums, full of vile, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavender and thyme and the scent of perennial flowers. The pages of the big dailies are so full of murder, thievery, immorality and selfishness, that the better news is obscured by these glaring shatterings of the Decalogue. One puts the papers aside with a seeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of terrible and unhappy things. Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little cities around us in Alberta, one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth only that which uplifts a community—the activities of the business men, the church news, the civic good accomplished by the women, school items, the happy social gatherings of the people, the marriages, births, and deaths, farmers items, and all the thousand and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people, who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours. Scandals are seldom published in the country newspapers, but if it so happens that decency demands it, the uglier details are omitted, or given a kindly touch that is wisely different from the unfeeling publicity of the city press. The offenders may be our neighbors, or people we have rubbed elbows with all our lives. They are real human beings to their home town paper, while to the great city dailies they are merely grains of a sort that are ground out hourly in their news mill. Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is one of the most potent and uplifting factors in our national existence. The great dailies have their mission, but their scope is too big to touch very closely the inner things of life.

Where would Caesar get off at if he had to explain his veni, vidi, vici message? He couldn't plead that he was saving telegraph tolls.

The German Atlantic flyers are being lavishly entertained at New York. Capt. Koehl in a recent speech pledged his life to the furtherance of peaceful relations between nations as a German officer who commanded an airplane squadron in the Great War, he said he would now give his last drop of blood to work for peace and humanity.

BLACKIE BASEBALL OFFICIALS

The Blackie Baseball Club is away to a good start for 1928 with the following officers who will endeavor to provide the people of Blackie and district with a brand of ball that will popularize the game among all:
Hon. Pres., Dr. M. C. Burke.
President, H. E. Wray.
Secy.-Treas., Geo. Devitt.
Manager, Rex Dwigans.
Executive Committee, L. L. McDonald, W. J. Evans and J. Schmidt.
Assistant Manager, trainer and coach, Dick Speers.

Dick Speers, first baseman of the Blackie baseball team is also a past master in the roll of assistant manager. At the initial meeting of the club after his arrival, he gave an outline of the policy to be followed which if carried out will redound with credit to the Blackie baseball club as well as the community at large. The citizens of Blackie and district have been liberal in their support of baseball and he emphasized the point that members of the team must do their part in popularizing the game. On Monday several members of the team and supporters were out on the grounds altering the diamond, moving it further south to enable cars to park at the back of the home base and also enlarging the space for spectators. It is the intention to have posts and a wire placed around the diamond which will give a clear field to the players and prevent enthusiastic fans from trespassing on players ground.

Firestone
Tread is Scientifically
Designed

When Firestone engineers were developing the Balloon Tire they found it necessary to design a tread altogether different from that required by High Pressure Tires.

The Firestone tread was not designed with large, massive projections for appearance or to make plausible sales argument. On the contrary, the projections of the cross-and-square tread are small and the rider strips narrow, permitting the tread to yield to irregularities and cling to the road, giving the greatest non-skid surface. This tough, pliable tread has the wear-resisting qualities that give thousands of extra miles of service and save you money.

Your nearest Firestone Dealer will gladly supply your needs and give you the better service that goes with these better tires.

It is difficult to understand why the Dominion government should set its face against a divorce court for Ontario such as obtains in some other provinces. There does not seem to be any special reason why parliament should have to hear and decide actions for divorce, although the Senate Committee on Divorce may deal with applications quite as judicially as any court. The difficulty arises when some religious issue is involved and then we have members opposing the action of the committee upon religious grounds alone. Almost every session some such case arises and the time of parliament is squandered over a dispute that is unseemly and impractical. This year, Rev. Mr. Woodsworth, M.P., tried to show the iniquity of the Commons passing divorce bills in bulk and he succeeded to some extent, but not to the extent of blocking the bills or effecting a reform. But it will come.

It might be a good thing if the provincial health department would send out a truck to gather up the cats that are killed every night on Alberta's Highways. Perhaps a cat can see in the dark but a motorist can't, which probably accounts for so many cat-astrophies.

MAKES A MILLION

Interesting Article About Colonel Lindbergh and How He Has Amassed a Fortune.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, still under 27, has already amassed his first million. The tow-headed boy, who began his climb to fame and fortune in a mail plane at $200 and something a month, has earned more in a year than most people accumulate in a lifetime. All this he has accomplished without in any way forsaking the calling that made him one of the world's greatest heroes, and much more in movie royalties have been refused.

Harassed almost to distraction by airplane manufacturers, inventors, and operators, who have offered millions to have him sit at their own desk he also persisted in his determination never to capitalize his name for purely personal financial gain. "Lindy" has put all his legs in one cockpit and then given his undivided attention to keeping that ship on an even keel—and the money has rolled in.

Despite his longing for obscurity, he has never been able to rid himself of the Midas touch thrust upon him by Paris last May. He has run away from more millions than anyone in history. But he has not been able to remain as humble in the records of the income tax division of the treasury department as in his own dashing spirit.

Most of Lindbergh's fortune, which has congealed about him at the average rate of $100,000 a month since his Paris flight, falls upon the head of "earned income"—which means work for pay at the controls of the "Spirit of St. Louis." About $300,000 has come from his writings. Two series of daily flight narratives, one from Europe and one from Central America, have netted approximately $150,000 from a newspaper syndicate.

"We," the autobiography of the son of a former Congressman, has been a best seller for months. Royalties have already amounted to close to $200,000 with publishers predicting a million sales before the present year is out. As an author, Lindy earned more last year than Sinclair Lewis and William Cather combined. As a director of the Guggenheim Foundation for Promotion of Aeronautics, "Lindy" receives an annuity fixed by his friends at $100,000. His all-United States tour last fall netted him $225,000 more. St. Louis gave him $35,000 for the Paris flight, and he got $25,000 Ortel prize, and the $25,000 Wilson peace prize.

A MAN AND HIS DOG

Impressions Created in the Mind of an Observant Woman During the Recent Field Trials Here

There was in our midst recently, a notable gathering. The Field Trials brought to the town, aristocrats of dogdom. Not only had they pedigrees but they were obliged also to produce a speed and hunting ability to justify the loving care which had been lavished upon them. No come-by-chance strays, these dogs, but conceived on fine eugenic principles and most carefully reared. While the dogs themselves, were an impressive and vocal presence, yet one's mind turned inevitably to the array of foster fathers who had so carefully guided their steps across the hunting fields of life. There gleamed in the eyes of these proud fathers that fierce parental light that is usually reserved for mothers at baby shows. That strong maternal instinct, so often repressed in men, had found its outlet. Their faces were eloquent of sleepless midnight hours of agonizing watches over sick beds, of problems solved in diet and training and of heavy porings over dog books. The families too—the merely human families of these dog enthusiasts—they also might contribute tales of a steady diet of oatmeal porridge, because porridge is so good for pups; of a haunting, unceasing odor of mutton—broth (advised in dog books) and simmering dog meat; of friends estranged through the pup's fanatic passion for overshoes and caps.

How truly spoke that wise woman who asserted that if she could only present her sport-loving spouse with an occasional bird dog, instead of the recurring baby, she would acquire much more merit in his sight.

Consider a man—a dog man—can he tell off hand the shade of his current baby's hair? Rarely. Does he know that baby's fine points? No. But his pup is something different. The very hairs of its hide are numbered, and its lines, from tip to tail, float ever before his vision.

Why should a man blush to be caught with "Holt's Care and Feeding of Infants" in his hand—or is he ever thus caught? Yet brazenly he flaunts before the world his cherished volumes on the Care and Training of Pups. Rarely do we find men home in mid-morning to gaze on the child of his productions, and he would be scorned for such an act. Yet it is a common place to find busy men, snatching on hour to gaze upon the ineffable features of a new setter pup. And this adoration does not stop with the dumb creature himself. A similar tribute is paid to his mother. Men stand in bunches to offer oblation to her maternal qualities. Is the same spirit lavished on the human mother? Well is it? Does one find them grouped round the mother of five or ten strapping children, worshipping her—rushing to pay her homage? Not ever, at any rate not at dances or any place where a little admiration counts. Quite the contrary.

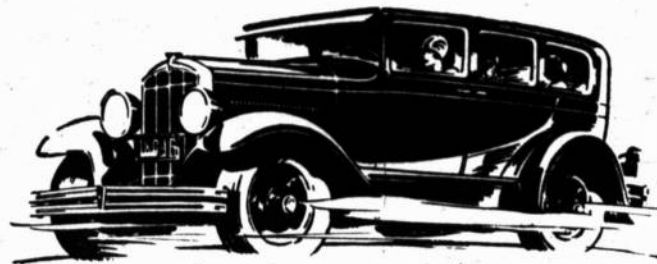

While men are fascinating creatures, with strange material, yearnings, they are nevertheless inconsistent. Yet one forgives them much, for they suffer much. They expect such grand returns for all their labors. They sacrifice sleep, time, the goodwill of their families over these animals—only to find after months of labor that the brute is gun shy, a confirmed rabbit-chaser or some such tragedy. They see in him the climax of perfection, only to run on a judge who sees nothing but imperfections. The grievous look on the face of a man whose dog cops off nothing, is a sight to wring the heart. A mother whose infant has lost out at a baby show, has at least the right to express herself. But a man must smile and be a sport. He has it rough. —The Times High River.

ADVERTISING AND PROGRESS

Advertising has proven itself to be the barometer of progress. It has not been long since business advertising was as severely criticized and ridiculed as boasting of personal qualifications. At the same time there was as little faith in the claims of advertisements as in the claims of the braggart. Only the quack and the impostor, who had everything to gain and nothing to lose, then resorted to advertising. Business is ever the standard bearer and apostle of progress, and so it was business which discovered that advertising was a vital factor in all growth. When advertising was admitted to the freestone of business it was not the big business of today. Big business traces its beginning with its employment of advertising. In its conversion to advertising business was soon followed by industry, commerce and the professions made themselves manifest in each step forward. That was the evolution of advertising, until today advertising plays a part in every phase of life and is the working instrument of all except the doctor and the lawyer, who still consider it "unethical" to advertise for business. He may place his "card" in the newspaper, but it is professionally forbidden for the doctor or the lawyer to inform the public of his capabilities. Nothing in life has attained perfection and evolution as an eternal, ever-continuing advancement. The evolution of advertising will not stop with its adoption by medicine and jurisprudence, but that adoption will establish another milestone of progress.

FIGHT CANADIAN PRODUCTS

Canada has an exceedingly good customer in Great Britain, when it is considered that in 1927 Canada sold to that country over $400,000,000 worth of our products, while in return Canadian purchases amounted to $182,000,000, which certainly reads like sound business, and without such a market, prices for a great many commodities would be materially lower, says the Strathmore Standard. During the same period Canadians bought from the United States over $700,000,000, while our exports were less than $500,000,000. Great Britain welcomes Canadian goods while the Americans devise every possible means to keep our products out.

The amount of money involved in the big deal exceeded $30,000—being $50 an acre. The purchase was made from the Knight Sugar Company owners of the land.
